

LEADERSHIP BUY-IN CHECKLIST

Date of review:	YES	NO
The management is aware of the potentials associated with circular economy and convinced it should invest time and resources into it
The management has agreed to develop a CE plan and strategy
Delegation of authority and responsibility has been granted to a circular economy manager
A circular economy team has been developed, representing different roles in the organisation
The resources required to transform to circularity are being made available
The importance of the Circular economy is communicated to all internal staff and key external stakeholders
A vision was collaboratively designed to engage in circular economy
Circular economy objectives and actions have been developed and are consistent with the strategic direction of the organization.
A framework was established to ensure the project objectives with the monitoring of key performance indicators.
The management is committed to continuous improvement on its journey to circularity

#GETTING STARTED #LEADERSHIP